DESIGN CROWD

Copy the email text below and use it to contact your potential Craigslist customer via email. Sign off with your name.

Although I'd love to do this design for you, I feel you'd be a lot more satisfied by using a contest site like designcrowd.com.

The reason why is because a graphic designer will normally get you 1 or 2 choices of a design to choose from, whereas a contest site will end up giving you 100 or more choices usually.

That's pretty hard for a single graphic designer like myself to even compete with...

Anyway, I just wanted to pay it forward and help you out up front and hopefully you'll keep me in mind for any future projects.

This is my way of standing out from my competitors.

Perhaps I could give you a hand with your website?
